Re: Covid-19 – General Update

Dear Madam/Sir,

Berry PET Power is carefully monitoring the evolving situation around the spreading of the Covid-19 and remains committed to mitigating any potential impact on the supply chains and operations of our customers.

To this end, we have established several preventive measures to safeguard the health and well-being of our customers, suppliers, other business partners and ourselves.

Measures like increased hygiene rules, travel restrictions, only essential visitors in our plant and office, are already in place.

On a global scale we follow the guidelines of the WHO. This means that physical contact is kept to a minimum, we apply high standards in hand hygiene and maintain social distance. Locally we follow the guidelines from the National Institute for Public Health and Environment by the Ministry of Health, Welfare and Sport (www.rivm.nl) and obey imposed restrictions. This means that we do not shake hands anymore, people who cough, sneeze and/or have a fever are requested to stay home and provided the type of job allows it; people work from home.

We understand our customers' concerns and we will do our utmost to produce and deliver all ordered goods in time. Like every company of our size we have contingency plans in place, however, now that Covid-19 has been classified by the WHO as pandemic, the impact on our business cannot be foreseen.

These extraordinary circumstances, which are completely beyond our control, may then result in Berry PET Power not being able to meet agreed lead times due to lack of raw materials, packaging material, availability of trucks, personnel etc.

The Berry PET Power team will continue to monitor the situation closely and will ensure to keep you informed should there be changes in the situation at Berry PET Power and/or our local area.

Kind regards,
Berry PET Power BV
